

Dear Sir/Madam,

The Indiana telephone privacy law is one of the most valuable protection of our privacy rights that we have here in Indiana. We actually can enjoy uninterrupted evenings most of the time. Do not dilute or override this law. If anything take the Indiana example and make it the national standard. Millions upon millions will benefit from this privacy standard. Business will find other ways to market their products and you will raise the quality of life for most Americans.